Dates and Deadlines:

Fall 2018 study abroad applications are due April 25th! There's still time to apply!

Join the Career Search and Find Internships!

Head over to Hand Shake for help finding Internships, job opportunities and more.

Click on the icon below now!

---

Where on Earth Would You Study Abroad?

To celebrate Earth Day, think about where you’d like to travel in the world while learning with some of your favorite Communication Department faculty. Take three Communication Theory courses while enriching yourself in the culture of Barcelona, Spain this fall! You’ll receive direct UA credit and have the opportunity to have an internship while abroad! You still have time to apply and can meet with Arizona in Barcelona Study Abroad Coordinator, Dafne Johnson to ask any questions. Dafne will be in COMM 207 for walk-ins on:

- Wednesday, April 11th from 2:00-3:00PM
- Friday, April 13th from 3:30-4:30PM
- Thursday, April 19th from 3:00-4:00PM

---

FEATURED MINOR OF THE MONTH: LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

All communication majors must be enrolled in a minor. You are free to choose any minor that interests you. Your minor must be a minimum of 18 units with 9 of those units being upper division (300-499 level). Dr. Kathryn Gallien advises for Latin American Studies and says that you will learn all about the Latin American region as well as the contemporary issues relating to human rights, drug violence, diversity and history. Kathryn’s favorite part about this minor is that it will give students new perspectives on these contemporary issues that need to be addressed. A great part of this minor is that it is a small department which means getting to know your classmates well and feeling like part of a great community. This minor will be complementary to a Communication major because it is important to able to communicate cross-culturally and to understand the differences between cultures respectfully.

One fun fact about Kathryn is that she studied abroad in Costa Rica for her undergraduate degree, went to Nicaragua for her master’s degree and Bolivia for her PhD! Contact Kathryn today to learn all about Latin America Studies and be sure to ask about LAS study abroad opportunities! She can be reached at kgallien@email.arizona.edu.