FEATURED MINOR OF THE MONTH: PHILOSOPHY

Sarah Williams advises the Philosophy minor and says that while studying Philosophy, you will be able to focus on the everyday occurrences in your life in a new and more analytic way. Philosophy students learn to contemplate and articulate topics in abstract ways. Her favorite part about the minor is that it is flexible and can easily be completed in 1-2 semesters. The courses are heavily discussion based, allowing you to become close with your classmates as you talk through some heavy topics and dive deep into conversations.

One reason Philosophy is a great minor with a Communication major is that it contributes to building and sharpening communication skills with various audiences. It also gives you the opportunity to get involved! The Philosophy Club is open to students who might be interested in the Philosophy minor. It's a great way to preview what you will be learning about and also allow you to meet many of your future classmates. Even if you have the slightest interest in philosophy, you can still be affiliated with the club.
