FEATURED MINOR OF THE MONTH: SOCIOLOGY

John McNeill is the advisor for Sociology students and has been for the last 5 years. He says that Sociology is an interesting topic to study because all of the different subtopics you can learn about, such as race, inequality, gender, sports, you name it! Another interesting part about Sociology is that it covers so many different matters and explains how they can all be related. John states that a COMM major and a Sociology minor would make a great pair because they are complementary in how they both seek truths about society. A fun fact about John is that he used to belong to a medieval recreation society and learned how to use a sword! Learn how to declare your Sociology minor here!
