

Interested in the Communication major?

Communication Academic Advising

Last Names A – K
Stephanie Carlson
scarlson@email.arizona.edu

Last Names L – Z
Candace Landwerlen
cjl@email.arizona.edu

Majoring in Communication

The Communication Major provides students with communication skills that are useful for a variety of professional careers. Our mission is to provide students majoring in Communication with the ability to speak and write clearly and effectively, complete research to better understand the world around them, become critical consumers of information, and apply critical thinking skills to real world challenges.

Pima Transfer Pathway

See course equivalencies and an outline of what you can/should be taking at Pima:

<http://admissions.arizona.edu/transfer/pima-pathways-agreements>

Admission to the COMM major

The Communication major requires an application. Information can be found here: <http://comm.arizona.edu/node/203>

As a transfer student, we may be able to waive your application if you have at least the following Pima courses complete:

- SPE 102
- One of the following: SPE 110, SPE 120, or SPE 130
- MAT 151 or higher

If you have these complete, contact your COMM advisor after you've been admitted to UA**

comm.arizona.edu

Your best resource for all Department of Communication information, including:

- Major Application
- Advising Appointments
- Careers in Communication
- Internships
- Study Abroad

Meet with a COMM Advisor: You can schedule appointments with us most of the year here: <https://sbs.arizona.edu/advising/student> (click "Login without a netid account"). We ask that you avoid October and March, since those are priority registration and our busiest months.

Choose a minor: You'll need one (or a double major) for your degree, and you may be able to take some courses toward your minor before you transfer. Here's where you can find a list of minors offered at UA, some information about them, and the advisors to talk to for each one: <http://advising.arizona.edu/advisors/minor>

Math: Your math requirement is SBS 200: Intro to Statistics for the Social Sciences. The pre-requisite for this course is College Algebra or appropriate math placement score. However, if you transfer MAT 151 (or higher) and PSY 230 from Pima, you will have satisfied Math.

Second Language: Fourth semester proficiency is required. This requirement can be completed through language courses or exams. We recommend you complete this requirement before transferring. Please let your advisor know if you have any questions about this.

COMM courses: With the exception of COMM 101, Communication courses are only open to declared COMM majors and minors. Work with a COMM advisor to determine if you'll need to apply for the major, and if so, when you should do that. An important note: we require minimum grades of a B and a C between COMM 101 and COMM 228 (SPE 102 and PSY 289 at Pima).

Any Pima courses with grades lower than "C" are not transferrable, and therefore cannot be considered complete